Factual Background

8. QUADRATEC and AUTO SHOPS are competitors. Both are, and have been at all times relevant to the matters alleged in this Complaint, engaged in the business of selling and offering for sale aftermarket parts and accessories for Jeep® branded vehicles (said aftermarket parts and accessories for Jeep® branded vehicles hereinafter referred to as "Jeep Products").

9. QUADRATEC was founded in 1990 and has become the world's leading independently owned supplier of such Jeep Products.

10. Since its inception, QUADRATEC has advertised its Jeep Products through magazine advertisements and direct-mail catalogs.

11. In 1995, QUADRATEC began to offer for sale its Jeep Products on its website www.quadratec.com.

12. QUADRATEC invests and has invested substantial financial and human resources to create tens of thousands of unique photographs of the Jeep Products it sells in print and on its website. In addition, QUADRATEC creates written copy to accompany the offerings of many of its Jeep Products.

13. QUADRATEC's success is due in large part to the substantial investment of time and hard work by its employees, including its photographers, who carefully select the Jeep Products to be photographed, and/or decide on the appropriate setting for the photographs, shoot the photographs of the Jeep Products in QUADRATEC's photographic studio and engage in all required post-production tasks to select and implement the photographs necessary to represent the Jeep Products for sale in its catalog and on its website, together with descriptive text.

14. QUADRATEC's unique and creative visual product presentations, including its original product photography, differentiate it from all of its competitors in the sales of Jeep Products.

15. The value of QUADRATEC's visual and textual product presentations lies in the quality and selection of the photographs and text associated with the Jeep Products offerings. These visual and textual product presentations are often the only exposure to the Jeep Products that customers have before deciding to make a purchase, and these visual presentations are very important to a customer's decision to purchase Jeep Products from QUADRATEC.

16. QUADRATEC's visual and textual product presentations constitute unique, proprietary and economically valuable materials that are intended to present Jeep Products sold by QUADRATEC in their best possible light in order to assist customers in making their purchase decisions.

17. The quality and unique nature of QUADRATEC's visual and textual Jeep Products presentations provide QUADRATEC with important competitive advantages and provide a means for maintaining its customer base and attracting new customers.

18. QUADRATEC is the owner of all right, title and interest, including copyrights, in and to thousands of original photographs and textual materials prepared by its employees used to promote QUADRATEC's sales of Jeep Products.

22. On information and belief, AUTO SHOPS, without the authorization of QUADRATEC, has copied numerous photo images from QUADRATEC's website, www.quadratec.com, and has used those QUADRATEC images to advertise Jeep Products on its www.allthingsjeep.com website in competition with QUADRATEC.

23. On January 21, 2016, by letter to All Things Jeep, at Defendant's address in San Jose, California, (Exhibit B, attached) QUADRATEC advised Defendant that it was posting content on its www.allthingsjeep.com website that was identical to QUADRATEC's protected images and texts, and furthermore that the copied and reproduced images are the subject matter of the "820 Registration". In addition, QUADRATEC in its letter provided links to webpages from Defendant's www.allthingsjeep.com website showing specific content corresponding to and identical to the content on the QUADRATEC's website.

24. QUADRATEC's January 21, 2016, letter (Exhibit B) further demanded that Defendant:
